

Jake and Hannah Graf

LGBTQ Couple

"The UK's most influential LGBT Power Couple" – The Guardian

Jake & Hannah Graf have been named the UK's most influential LGBTQ couple on the year's Independent 2018 Pride Power List and have become something of an inspiration to the international trans community, seizing every opportunity to increase acceptance and understanding of the transgender experience.

TOPICS:

- Gender Equality
- Addiction & Alcoholism
- Mental Health

LANGUAGES:

They present in English.

IN DETAIL:

Jake is a multi-award winning director, writer and actor known for his roles in "The Danish Girl" and "Colette", and for viral hit "Headspace". Transitioning in 2008, and after a lifetime of searching for positive representations of trans people onscreen, Jake quickly became known as one of the most prolific and visible trans male directors internationally. Captain Hannah Graf is an Officer of the British Army. In 2013 Hannah came out as a transgender woman and became one of the highest-ranking transgender soldiers within the British Army. As part of the Army LGBT Forum, she became the Army's Transgender Representative where she had responsibility to advise Senior Army commanders on transgender policy, mentor and support the Army's many transgender soldiers.

HOW SHE PRESENTS:

Jake and Hanna are inspiring, compelling and engaging speakers. Both are open, honest and frank when sharing their own personal stories of life pre and post transition, providing a springboard for all manner of follow up messages and themes and engaging the audience early on.