

Peter Komolafe is an award-winning financial content creator and TV personality, dedicated to empowering people to achieve financial security through positive habits. His passion for the financial markets and his mission to demystify the unnecessarily complicated world of investing has led him to create Conversation of Money, a cross channel platform with over a million viewers and listeners globally.

TOPICS:

- Financial Wellbeing in the Workplace?
- Consumer Finance
- Investment Strategies
- Creating Engagement in Finance

IN DETAIL:

Peter has been on a journey from foster care and being homeless to the executive team of a multinational Fortune 100 company. He is qualified as a Financial Adviser, Mortgage Adviser and has held key roles at RBS, MetLife, St James Place and Investec Wealth & Investment. Inspired by his own background and determined to harness his expertise in order to help individuals from all walks of life, in 2020 Peter took the bold decision to step away from Canary Wharf altogether and set up his own advisory platform, Conversation of Money. In addition to this, Peter is a regular contributor to The Express and has worked on a financial series with The Times. Peter has also extended his talents to television, starring in the second series of Channel 4's Secret Spenders and appearing weekly on ITV's Lorraine to offer his specialist advice on personal finance.

LANGUAGES:

He presents in English.

PUBLICATIONS:

2023 The Money Basics

2023 Podcast: The Conversation of Money

WHAT HE OFFERS YOU:

In his presentations, Peter Komolafe discusses how financial services can adapt and be thought leaders in a new world of digital products and fintech. He explains how to improve financial wellness in the workplace, improve productivity and employee retention.

HOW HE PRESENTS:

Peter's highly energetic and personal speaking style mixes deep human insight with sharp financial acumen.